SENATOR DODGED THE IRISH ROLL CALL

Denver Audience Cheers Mention of Name of Woodrow Wilson.

(International News Service)
DENVER, Col., Sept. 25.—Governor James M. Cox indicated today, before beginning a day of campaigning in northern Colorado and Wyoming, that he is preparing to charge that German leaders in this country are backing Senator Harding in the hope of obtaining "easier peace terms for Germany."

"As you notice," he said, "the leader of the pro-Germans in New York is going to support Senator Harding because he believes the republican candidate stands for a separate peace with Germany. He thinks when that is made, Germany will be able to obtain easier peace terms."

Governor Cox did not name the "leader of the pro-Germans," to whom he referred.

From those close to the democratic candidate it was learned that investigation is being made of reports received by him that the republican leaders have lined up the German press in this country back of Senator Harding by claiming that the republican candidate intends to "scrap the league of nations."

While at Denver, Governor Cox replied to Senator Harding's recent statement on the Irish question.

"Senator Harding says it is not a question for official America, but he says we voted an expression of sympathy for Ireland," the Governor said. "The Senate did vote such an expression of sympathy, but the Senator dodged the roll call."

Cox was cheered in his address here last night when he declared that the "name of Woodrow Wilson will be repeated by the school children long after the name of Henry Cabot Lodge is buried in oblivion." Mention of Lodge's name brought hisses.

FIFTEEN CONTESTANTS IN NATIONAL RACE

Winners Will Represent America in Competition for the Bennett Cup.

LOOKOUT FOR BALLOONS; THEY PASS THIS WAY

Today's the day to keep your optics averted heavenward. The big balloons that are to leave Birmingham this afternoon in the elimination contest should pass this way. With the wind blowing north-westward, the huge gas bags will drift across North Alabama and may be visible here, either late this afternoon or tonight.

(International News Service)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 25.—New long distance balloon records are expected to be made by the big gas bags which are scheduled to cut loose here this afternoon in the annual national balloon race of the Aero Club of America. Fifteen contenders are lined up for the race and it is expected that new marks will be made because of greater gas capacity and improved methods of construction in many of the balloons.

The three balloons which make the longest air line voyages will be America's entrants in the international balloon race for the Gordon Bennett cup, which will also start from this city on October 23.

Three bags have been entered by the Army Air Service, one by the navy and another by the Army Balloon School, Fort Omaha. The other ten balloons have been entered by civilians. The entry of the balloons school will be piloted by A. Leo Stevens, who, with professor David Todd, of Amherst College, won fame last Spring by an attempt to pick up radio-electric waves from Mars through a receiving station 30,000 feet above the earth.

The civilian entries are Ralph H. Upson, Akron, Ohio, now holder of the international trophy; H. E. Honeywell, Clayton, Mo.; William A. Assmann, representing the city of Little Rock, Ark.; J. S. McKibben, St. Louis Mo.; E. S. Cole, St. Louis, Mo.; Roy F. Donaldson, Springfield, Mo.; Arthur C. Hoskins, St. Louis, Mo.; Captain J. M. O'Reilly, St. Louis, Mo.; Captain Bernard Hoffman, St. Louis, Mo.; and Warren Raser, Brookville, Ohio.

The national balloon race is an eliminating race for the international contest. In that race there will be eleven entrants, three from the United States, three from Italy, three from France, one from Great Britain and one from Belgium.

The Gordon Bennett cup has been in this country since 1913, when it was lifted from France by Ralph Upson, of Akron, Ohio.

Although America is the title holder by virtue of winning the last race, France has an unbeaten record for distance, made in 1912, when Maurice Blenheim covered 1,361 miles without touching land, beating the American record of 1,172 miles set in 1910 by Alan R. Hawley.

The balloon "Belgica," of 2,000 cubic metres capacity, has been entered by the Aero Club of Belgium. It will be piloted by Ernest Demuyter, who contested in the race of 1912.

WEATHER FAVORABLE

(International News Service)
BIRMINGHAM, Sept. 25.—Weather conditions are excellent for the jumping off here this afternoon of the twelve balloons that will compete in the national balloon race.

Bittner Raps Kilby Proposal to Set the Price on Coal Mined in Alabama. Declares Output Already Contracted For.

KILBY THREATENS TO CALL ANOTHER SESSION OF SOLONS

(International News Service)

MONTGOMERY, Sept. 25.—Legislators are aroused today over the special message of Governor Kilby threatening to recall them in extraordinary session unless measures to control the coal industry of Alabama are passed.

The original coal commission bill, framed along the lines of the Kansas industrial relations act, and containing drastic provisions for the state control by license of the distribution and price of coal has been side tracked by Governor Kilby, according to his message, in favor of a substitute bill by Representative Thompson of Dothan, providing for a fuel administrator and giving the Governor the authority to contract with the operators for coal for the public.

This bill is on the house calendar for consideration Monday afternoon. The Governor also announced that he had reached an agreement with the operators for fixed prices on coal.

Governor Kilby said the coal crisis must be met. "Certainly, I shall consider it a duty evolving on me to recommend such a measure," said the Governor, "and if the occasion demands I shall not hesitate to call you back in extraordinary session; for law and order must be maintained in this state at any expense, and our people must not be allowed to suffer either in their affairs or because of the selfish differences of employers and employees."

Governor Kilby also announced that the expense of keeping troops at the mines was over $3,000 a day but that he has no intention of withdrawing them at the present time.

WEATHER Partly cloudy tonight.

H. D. Harkreader, who is soon to retire as editor of the Albany-Decatur Daily, having disposed of his holdings in the Tennessee Valley Printing company, publishers of the Daily, to the company, was today at noon presented with a handsome 17-jeweled Elgin watch, with gold chain and knife, by members of the Daily force, his associates and close friends for the past six years.

The presentation speech was made by W. R. Shelton, manager of the Daily, just at the noon hour. The gift came as a complete surprise to its recipient, who in a few words expressed his appreciation of the remembrance. At the conclusion of his short talk, a letter that had been drafted while the back of the sanctum occupant was turned, was passed along to him. As he read it, the watch was produced from a pocket. Taking his trusted Ingersoll, which had seen many years of hard service, from his pocket, Mr. Harkreader pitched it into the air and announced that it was the property of the one who caught it. Pat Kirkland, former baseball star, grasped the honored time-piece and at once inaugurated an attempt to traffic it for marbles or any other available commodity.

The letter accompanying the gift follows:
Mr. H. D. Harkreader,
Editor of the Albany-Decatur Daily,

Dear Friend:

As a testimonial from the force of the Albany-Decatur Daily, with whom you have long been associated, we take great pleasure in presenting you with a token of our friendship and esteem and hope you will accept it in the spirit of friendship and esteem in which it is given.

We hope in the years to come it may remind you of those you leave behind, whose good fortune it has been to labor with you and trust at some future time it may again be our privilege.

SEVERAL FIRMS ARE MOVING TO MOULTON STREET, NEW RIVAL OF SECOND AVENUE

Green Grocery Company to Consolidate and Occupy Patterson Building.

UNION SUPPLY CO. IN ITS NEW HOME

Bernstein Building, Nearing Completion, a Very Handsome Structure.

With several firms already moving to Moulton street and the announcement that the Green Grocery company will consolidate its two stores and move to 202 Moulton street, formerly occupied by the Patterson Mercantile company, Moulton street is rapidly becoming a rival to Second avenue as a business center of Albany.

W. A. Green of the Green Grocery company stated today that he would close his Bank street store Monday. At an early date this stock will be moved to Moulton street and there combined with the stock from the Second avenue store.

The Patterson Mercantile company has already completed removal of its stock from 202 Moulton to the Malone building just west of the Hughes & Tidwell Supply Co. The new Patterson establishment is occupying a large double store which is one of the handsomest business houses in Albany.

The Union Supply Company has also about completed removal of its stock from the Malone building on Second avenue, next to the Princess theatre, to the new Malone building on Moulton street right between Patterson and Hughes & Tidwell.

Another local business which will have a branch house on Moulton street is S. M. Winton. This store will be located in the handsome new Bernstein building. Among other new enterprises in the Bernstein building is the Royal Cafe and the Albany office of the Anderson-Clayton Company, one of the largest Southern cotton firms which has just moved to Albany.

The Bernstein building is one of the finest business structures in North Alabama. Part of the building on the corner of Moulton street and First avenue is occupied by the offices and cotton warehouse of Mr. Bernstein. Behind the office have been built large vats for hides while the cotton warehouse is at the rear. It will have a capacity of about 5,000 bales, it was stated today. Above the office is a large room for the drying and storing of furs.

Another new building on Moulton street is the warehouse of Sively and Sandlin Hardware Company which is located between the Sively & Sandlin building and the Bernstein building. It has already been filled with a large stock of wagons and other farm implements. Still further down the street and adjoining the Louisville and Nashville Railroad right of way is Warehouse No. 3 of the Hughes & Tidwell company.

With the completion of the storm sewer and the paving on First avenue, which will give additional access to Moulton street, local business men believe that Moulton will soon show further evidence of improvement. The vacant lots on Moulton street are owned by progressive citizens who are expected to put up buildings as rapidly as conditions warrant.

Bird Dog, Struck By Truck, Quickly Surrenders Life

A bird dog, wearing a collar with a name plate but no name inscribed on it, was killed almost instantly in front of the Daily office Friday afternoon when struck by a big truck, heavily loaded. Struck by a big front wheel, the luckless canine was thrown directly in front of the rear wheel. He was dead instantly, and long before a crowd of the curious had gathered to discuss his fate. The dead dog was rolled into the gutter—and the truck passed on.

THE BASEBALL PROBE SHOULD BE THOROUGH

All lovers of the national pastime will commend the action of the Chicago grand jury in extending its session past September 30 so that it may thoroughly investigate the charges made of the alleged "throwing" of the 1919 world series. So much depends upon the outcome of this inquiry that it should be thorough. If it is found that individual players or a team collectively sold out to the gamblers, then every man in any way connected with the plot should be indicted. The most severe penalty provided by law should be meted out to the guilty, for not only were they responsible for the mauling of the public but they also struck a body blow at a game that has held its own largely through the fine character of sportsmanship displayed.

Horse racing went into the discard and boxing was tabooed for years because of the activities of gamblers, who, in order to win, resorted to bribery and corruption. These sports are just now beginning to return to popular favor. Baseball will suffer a similar fate unless it is kept on a high plane. Patrons of the sport will not pay their good money to witness farcical contests, nor will they countenance that form of double-dealing which insures the outcome of a game before it is played.

Some of the best known players in organized baseball have stated that attempts were made to "fix" some of the players in the last world's series. The aversion of the magnates in extending the series, and the peculiar trend of events at the time they were being played, caused much adverse comment. It was broadly hinted in the press at the time that there was "something rotten in Denmark." It is the grand jury's business to find out about this and to let the axe fall if necessary.

ATHENS' POPULATION NOW 3,323; AN INCREASE OF 94 PER CENT

(Limestone Democrat.)
The population of Athens under the 1920 census has at last been announced and is 3,323, an increase of 94 per cent. This is a far larger increase than any other old town in the state, which has not had increase thrust upon it by war activities. It is a record of which Athens has just cause to be proud and stands out as a wonderful testimonial to the enterprise and growth of the town, backed up as it is by a magnificent farming section, surrounding it and blessed with wonderful schools.

As it well known to our people there are at least 1,700 people who reside just outside the corporate limits, all of whom are practically residents of Athens; hence it is no exaggeration to say that Athens is a town of 5,000 people, and the best town of its size in this section, a statement that will be borne out by every traveling man visiting here.

In addition to this permanent population Athens College, with its faculty and boarding pupils, gives the town an additional 200 to 250 people nine months of each year.

The recent school census showed 660 white children and 190 colored children of school age.

Athens should, and doubtless will, be a town of 10,000 people before the next census is taken and every man, woman and child within its confines should aid in making it a bigger and better place in which to live.

HOME BUILDING ENCOURAGED BY THIS LEGISLATION

Some member of the present legislature, evidently a gentleman residing in one of the many prosperous Alabama municipalities now facing the housing problem, has introduced a bill providing that all houses erected within the next ten years be immune from taxation until September 30, 1930. The bill is one of splendid motive and is financially sound on the premise that the state can derive no revenue from houses that are not built. The principle of tax exemptions is a bit broad and should not be encouraged generally. Furthermore, it is the prohibitive cost of material that is causing the slump in home-building, rather than the exorbitant tax assessments. Even with these objections, any legislation that will start a building boom is meritorious and should be encouraged.

NEW ZEALAND LIKES OUR STYLE

From Auckland, Consul General Winslow writes that there is an increasing importation of ready-made dresses and wearing apparel in general in that locality. During 1918 such imports amounted to $4,644,242, of which the United Kingdom supplied $3,338,371 and the United States $43,026 worth; while in 1919 the total imports were valued at $5,667,761. American styles appeal to a large number of the New Zealand people and, as the prevailing season there is the off season in this country, it should be a very easy market to reach since any surplus for the American season could be disposed of there and be well up to date. The Consul General believes that this business can be manifestly increased by the American manufacturer, especially with the services of a personal representative in the field.—New York Times.

TWO INTERESTING WEDDINGS

Two social events of next month around which are centered much interest and affection, are the weddings of Miss Elloie Evans Jeter and Mr. John William Bradshaw, of Ensley Ala., and Miss Louise Karr and Mr. Wilmer Hall, which will take place on Oct. 5th and 6th, respectively.

Both are to be high noon weddings. The Bradshaw-Jeter wedding will be simply but beautifully solemnized at the Episcopal church, Mr. C. L. Price officiating. Miss Jeter will be dressed for traveling and will have no attendants. A beautiful musical program will precede the ceremony.

On the following day at high noon the marriage of Miss Louise Karr and Mr. Wilmer Hall will be brilliantly solemnized at the Presbyterian church, Dr. D. W. Hollingsworth officiating.

Miss Karr will be attended by a group of Florence's most attractive girls. Miss Ada Des Prez will serve as maid of honor and Misses Harper Gilbert, Marguerite Johnson, Clyde Willingham, Eliza King and Genevieve Simpson as bridesmaids.

The many friends of Miss Jeter regret that her marriage will take her away from Florence. Mr. Hall and his bride will reside in the city at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Karr on Wood Avenue.—Florence Daily News.

Miss Iane H. White, of Huntsville, Ala., who was a guest of Mrs. Lewis Bradley, left yesterday for her home.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Plemons, of Chicago, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith, of Springfield, Ill. and Mrs. M. B. Mahon, of Beaumont, Texas, are here to attend the bedside of their mother, Mrs. N. L. Plemons, who has been seriously ill for two weeks.

The Central Baptist Sunday School announces a State Mission and Promotion Day Rally tomorrow morning from 9:45 until noon. There will be a special program by the pupils and music by the male quartette.

"HITCHIN' POSTS"

From Hitchin' Post to Hitchin' Post roamed the gambler, the fiddler, and the dog. Then came the land rush and in the West they found a home.

The stakes were high and the river gambler held four aces. But he threw them down and quit the game forever. A woman? Yes—and such a woman!

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON BRIDGE CLUB

Miss Marguerite Johnson entertained the Wednesday Afternoon Bridge Club yesterday afternoon to especially compliment Misses Louise Karr and Elloie Jeter, two brides next month.

The house was prettily decorated with cut flowers and ferns. Only the club members were present, the highest score in the game being made by Mrs. Frank Reeder, who was rewarded with a feather coin purse. Miss Karr was presented with a piece of hand embroidery as an honor's prize, and Miss Jeter with glass tea straws.

Following the game a delicious salad course was served.—Florence Daily News.

The Daily News of Florence also carried a very handsome photograph of Miss Karr, a charming member of Florence younger set who becomes the bride of Mr. Wilmer Hall a popular Decatur boy next month.

MRS. J. O. CAMP ENTERTAINS

Mrs. J. O. Camp entertained at four tables of Set Back Thursday evening. Cut flowers, ferns and potted plants adorned the library and dining rooms where the interesting game was played. After the game and prize presentation the hostess served a delightful salad course to the following guests: Dr. and Mrs. Tom Collins, of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Burleson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lide, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Brock, Mrs. H. C. Hutchison, Misses Dimple Brock, Lillian and Maud Odom, Messrs Percy and Roy Newsome.

The attractive bungalow of Dr. and Mrs. R. M. McGlathery was the scene of much merriment Friday afternoon. To celebrate Wayland's fourth birth anniversary, Mrs. McGlathery had invited sixteen little playmates for his first birthday party.

The decoration of the entire house in a color scheme of pink and white caused the little honor guest to feel like a regular grown up. Exquisite taste was displayed in the arrangement of pink flowers, tapers and tulle. The huge white cake with its four pink candles centered the table where the guests were served pink and white ices and bonbons.

Mrs. T. B. Woodard and Miss Kata McJilton assisted Mrs. McGlathery entertain the children with games on the lawn. Each little guest was presented a souvenir of the afternoon. The little folks enjoying this happy occasion were: Mary Kate Troup, Billie Day, Marie and Carl Neill Patterson, Jean Draper, Julia Dent and Thomas Woodard Jr., Dorothy Ortie, Ned Frazier, Earle Calvin, Jr., Edward Shaw, Mary Louise, Garrett, Albert Clopton, Robert Jones, Julia Chandler, Raymond Srygley and Wayland McGlathery.

Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Penick, Mrs. M. L. Hardage, Mrs. J. R. Doss, Mrs. Mary Farris, Misses Mary Penick, Edith Doss and Eugenia Cook; Messrs Joe Wood, Albert Roberts and Mr. Tappin.

Bridal Cakes.

The bride cake which so invariably accompanies a wedding nowadays and which must always be cut by the bride, may be traced back to the old Roman form of marriage by "conferreatio," or eating together. So also among the froquois the bride and bridegroom used to partake together of the cake of Saganite which the bride always offered to her husband.

Justice Greatest of Virtues.

The sense of justice was never born in the human heart. This divine virtue is at variance with the instincts of the individual and nature itself is essentially non-just. Justice is the flowering of all the other virtues—the heavenly endowment of rare and great souls only.—Sir Richard Cooke.

HIGH RENT PLUS MOTHER-IN-LAW LIFE HARD FOR NEWLYWEDS

Courts of Domestic Relations in Large Cities
Filled With Cases Directly Traced to High Cost of Home Making with Mother-in-law an Added Burden.

Written for the International News
Service
By Margery Rex

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—High rents

are indicted on new charges. Vast monthly and yearly tolls raise our purses to a miserable flatness. People who used to save in order to buy homes, automobiles, life insurance, clothes and education for the children, now find everything has become—for the average man or woman—subservient to the problem of paying the rent.

High rents and the flat shortage break homes, charges Mrs. Julia McGuire, arbitrator of the Court of Domestic Relations in Chicago, who has arrived at this alarming conclusion after "listening in" on the woes of the wedded.

But large rentals and scarcity of dwellings alone cannot separate man from his brand-new wife. The newlyweds' new obstacle to happiness, according to Mrs. McGuire, is one of the oldest excuses in the world for marital troubles. It is the standby of cartoonist and "columnist." It is an immemorial joke and theme of comic song. It is our old celebrated friend, the mother-in-law.

Not mother-in-law in the newlywed's home taking sides and bickering, as popularly supposed, but encircled with her own household goods, reigning and wrangling, as unwilling hostess to the homeless lovers.

Mrs. McGuire's Observations
Mrs. McGuire says:

"Discord breaks the harmony of their new happiness almost immediately. These couples are coming to court daily in increasing numbers. These newlyweds own nothing, neither have they anything to lose, and little differences are soon magnified into consequential in such environment. The mothers-in-law refuse to let them adjust their differences once they come into court. They place every obstacle in their way."

Another black mark against the woman who, by the marriage of her son or daughter, becomes the supposedly hated in-law.

Rents, of course, are high in Chicago, great city of the Middle West. But what of New York, where land values are so great in all parts of the city that the poorest tenement dares to ask a good round, but by no means square, sum for the privilege of its shelter?

Huge rentals do not deter matrimony, at least, says Michael J. Cruise, deputy clerk of the Marriage License Bureau, in commenting on the fear-some news from the West. Mr. Cruise believes that owing to the general state of high wages people are now marrying who, so to speak, have never married before.

License Clerk's Views
"High salaries at present make young men feel that they can support a wife," says Mr. Cruise. "The responsibility of marriage is not put off indefinitely by means of a long engagement."

"More money means more spunk. Nearly all working classes make good money now. I know several cases of young women who work in garment trades making as high as $20 a week. Such a girl in marrying a man who may make as much sometimes continues to work for a while. At least a period which is characterized by such pay for labor is not one in which men are loath to care for their wives. They don't need to live with mother-in-law."

"So many very young people come in here for licenses. In order to get the license they must show birth certificates or have their mothers come in to testify to their ages."

"We like to see the mothers with the youngsters. If they are the right sort of people they want to see the newly married get along peacefully and happily. I believe parents should be notified, especially in these civil marriages which are contracted in this bureau."

No Homes in Sight

"I have often wondered myself about the housing situation. Some of the applicants here have been questioned by us and they say they will go on a honeymoon but don't know where they will live later. That means, I suppose, the parents of one or the other will have to put them up till a permanent home can be found."

"At a time when the type of man who once was forced to wait and save for his bride-to-be can marry now while quite young, and at a time, when we issue more marriage licenses than ever before, I cannot say that the bogey of the mother-in-law is apt to wreck many homes."

But are landlords and mothers of brides and grooms really conniving to destroy romance and young love and marital bliss?

The mother-in-law of the colored supplement is a somewhat different individual from the real type from which she is crudely for the purposes of humor, drawn.

We know a mother-in-law who helped her son-in-law pay up his business losses, who clothes her daughter and her daughter's children in order that the little group may appear before their small and critical circle without loss of pride. She has helped them to save money, and her excellent advice and help during a period of strain will be remembered the next time they are tempted to outshine their neighbors.

We know a mother-in-law whose son married a flighty, spoiled, hot-tempered girl. How easy it would have been for that mother to take her son's part right or wrong, in each little spat and forever part these two, whose only fault was youth and lack of forbearance! But her kindly counsel and wisdom held together these foolish two till they outgrew the folly of the continued family life.

Many mothers-in-law are truly "angels in disguise."

We also venture the banality that many more are angels in disguise who must endure the heartlessness of the newlyweds, engrossed in love, fearing any alien presence may disturb their new-found happiness.

As to mother-in-law and her rights—"Long may she wave!"

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that application will be made to the Legislature of Alabama at a special session of same which convenes on September 14, 1920, for the passage of substantially the following bill:

A bill to be entitled "An Act for the Relief of the Fidelity & Deposit Company of Maryland as the Surety on the Official Bond of J. D. Epperson, heretofore County Treasurer of Morgan County, Alabama, and to authorize and direct the Board of Revenue of Morgan County, Alabama, to remit the Judgment obtained upon the payment by said Surety of all Court costs and attorney's fees incurred by Morgan County in said suit."

Whereas, J. D. Epperson, as County Treasurer of Morgan County, Alabama, retained as his commission upon receipts and disbursements of County funds the aggregate of $4398.80 on the theory, that he, like his predecessors in office, was entitled to $1000.00 per year, whereas the Supreme Court construed the order of the Court of County Commissioners to have the effect of limiting the compensation to $800.00 per year, thereby holding that he was entitled to the sum of approximately $3366.80;

Whereas, the duties of said County Treasurer, during his term of office, were increased and multiplied, and he was put to heavy expense in paying premiums on supplemental bonds for the building a system of Piked Roads, and he more than earned the salary and compensation retained by him; and

Whereas, judgment was obtained against the Fidelity and Deposit Company as surety on his official bond on December 16, 1919, for the said overcharge under the ruling of the Supreme Court, from which an appeal was taken.

Now, therefore, be it enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. That the Board of Revenue of Morgan County, Alabama, be and it is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to remit said judgment so obtained as aforesaid upon the payment by the said surety of all court costs and attorney's fees incurred by Morgan County in said action, and upon payment of same to mark said judgment paid and satisfied.

Section 2. This act shall go into effect immediately upon its passage and approval by the Governor.

ICELAND'S ATHLETES TO DEMONSTRATE HERE

JOSEFSSON ILLUSTRATING THE NORSEMAN'S METHOD OF SELF DEFENSE

Iceland will be represented here on Tuesday, October 12 when the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Great Combined Circus makes its appearance. Johannes Josefsson has come out of the North to display his championship prowess at "Glima," the national sport of the Icelanders.

"Glima" is a form of wrestling and self-defense practically unknown in this and many other countries, yet has been a sport in Iceland since the eleventh century. While similar to the Japanese method of self-defense, known as Jiu-jitsu, it is considered vastly superior to the latter. Josefsson has won the championship of Iceland for seven successive years. At the last contest there were twenty-four aspirants for the honor, each had to wrestle all the others and the title went to the competitor having the highest number of points. "Glima" makes more demand in the way of training and requires more spectacular ability and science than any other form of combat. The Icelandic has brought three famous experts with him for his exhibition under canvas. He concludes his performance by frustrating the combined attack made upon him by a trio armed with knives, clubs and revolvers.

By a King's Decree.

Up to 1785 handkerchiefs were of every conceivable size and shape. Then one evening Queen Marie Antoinette, in a fit of passion or indignation at Versailles, said that all handkerchiefs should be uniform if they were to indicate good taste. The result was that Louis XVI issued a decree early in 1785 that all pocket handkerchiefs should have right-angle edges. So right angle they are and have been ever since.—The American Embroiderer.

Wide Chaise Afforded.

Edward had an uncle who owned a grocery and market. On Saturdays it was Edward's delight to go there to help. A neighbor chanced in, and finding Edward there, she thought she would find out how much the little fellow knew about business and said: "Ed, have you chickens today?" The youngster's reply was: "Yep, we have all kinds, alive, dead, dressed and undressed."

The Movie Kiss.

The endurance test movie kiss, popularly known as a clinch, is not properly a kiss, but a form of adhesion closely resembling vulcanizing.—Robert Guillen in the Saturday Evening Post.

Purity of Mind.

You can no more filter your mind into purity than you can compress it into calumny; you must keep it pure, and throw no stones into it, if you would have it quiet.—Ruskin.

WEAK; RUN-DOWN

Carolina Lady Got So She Could Just Drag.—"Cardui Built Me Up," She Declares.

Kernersville, N. C.—In an interesting statement regarding Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, Mrs. Wesley Mabe, of near here, recently said: "I have known Cardui for years, but never knew its worth until a year or so ago. I was in a weakened, run-down condition. I became draggy—didn't eat, or sleep to do any good; couldn't do anything without a great effort. I tried different remedies and medicines, yet I continued to drag.

"I decided to give Cardui a trial, and found it was just what I really needed. It made me feel much stronger soon after I began to use it. I began to eat more, and the nervous, weak feeling began to leave. Soon I was sleeping good.

"Cardui built me up as no other tonic ever did.

"I used Cardui with one daughter who was puny, felt bad and tired out all the time. It brought her right out, and soon she was as well as a girl could be. We think there is nothing like Cardui."

Do not allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. You may find it just what you really need. For more than 40 years it has been used by thousands and thousands, and found just as Mrs. Mabe describes.

A TRAIN OF THOUGHTS FOR THE SABBATH AND OTHER DAYS

There was a religious drama enacted at the speaker's stand labor day, that for those who had eyes to see, sent many new fangled ideas about religion aglimmering into the discard.

The story: There was a sweet faced little boy handed to the writer with the statement—"He is lost from his father". Because it was easy to imagine that the boy's father was also lost from the boy and would be looking for him, the simple expedient of sitting the boy high on the platform railing was resorted to. Sure enough in a few moments up came "father" with his arms held up for his little son. Quicker than it takes to type it, the no longer lost boy fell into those open arms and lay with his little arms tight around his father's neck, weeping with a joy too great to be disturbed by the noisy throng, the speakers or the music of the brass band.

The application: If a boy can be lost from his earthly father, why can't men and women get lost from their heavenly father? They can, and from the wild fool lives so many lead, some evidently are actually lost. Why, then, all this new thought talk about no one being lost? If God will allow a little boy to be lost in a labor day crowd, He will allow you the best lost from Him, if you WILL to be lost!

Second application: Was the little boy in question able to find his father unaided? He was not. He had to have help. And even the father had to have help in locating his lost son. "All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every man to his own way!" This same Bible truth in the language of today may be thus stated: "We are all lost from the Father, just like the labor day boy was lost from his father. And we make little or no progress in becoming found, as long as no one helps us. One Great Helper is absolutely necessary. In other words, every one's experience must be the same as that expressed in the good hymn; "Jesus sought me when a stranger. Jesus sought me when a stranger. And then the following line of the same hymn is true, "Wandering from the God I love!"

Now, as the lost boy in question was doubtless going directly away from his father when detained, so we are possibly going directly away from our Maker, and who of us would acknowledge that we do not love God? But suppose we love God in a vague kind of way, but do not find Him, and serve Him, are we not still lost from Him, as much as the little boy was lost from his father?

Finally! That boy weeping in the arms of his father told a whole lot! That action and attitude of the boy was fundamental. He was acting in accord with the law of his own being and in accord with the law of the God that made him. Now the mourners at the old fashioned mourner's bench (People just come up, shake hands, sit on a bench and wait for some one to pray for them, too much, now days, instead of getting down and praying for themselves as in the old days) were moved as much by divine motives as was the lost boy at the labor day celebration. He was crying to "beat the band," so to speak, for his father and he wept for joy when he found him. Who will find fault with those who "shouted" and who wept because like the Apostle of old, they could say I have "found the Lord"? One loving parting shot at those who would try to eliminate pain from the scheme of things. As surely as our lost boy was pained as long as he was lost from his father, just so surely, please God, should we feel pain as long as we are separated from God. And as long as we violate any of His laws, His is sure to send the messenger "pain" to remind us "lest we forget, lest we forget".

One other word: There was rejoicing at the aviation grounds when the lost boy was found—especially did the seeking father rejoice—and there will be joy in heaven and on earth for every lost one that finally reaches the out-stretched arms of our Maker.—J. E. Blair.

RIVER GIVES UP $2,000 DIAMOND LOST 2 YEARS

(International News Service)

YANKTON, S. D., Sept. 25.—Two years ago Otto Huber, young real estate dealer here, and his fiancée, Miss Ruby Parr, went boat riding on the James River. A diamond engagement ring which had cost Huber $2,000 was lost in the water.

He and friends searched for the gem constantly during the next two days but it was not found and he was called away to war. Recently he returned.

Last Sunday he resumed the hunt, using a fine sand screen. After working about four hours he was rewarded by finding the ring. It has been
